1. Introduction and Policy Objectives

- 1.1 Information is an asset of the National Film and Television School (NFTS), and as such, must be protected against unauthorised, accidental or intentional disclosure.
- 1.2 Computer systems, networks and allied hardware and other peripherals are an integral part of our operations and represent substantial investment.
- 1.3 The aim of this policy is to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of NFTS information assets by:
- protecting the investment in IT infrastructure
 - safeguarding the information and materials contained within these systems ● reducing legal risk
 - reducing business risk
 - help ensure compliance with data protection legislation including the Data Protection Act 2018 and the GDPR
 - preserving the reputation of NFTS
 - providing NFTS staff and students (herewith “users”) with a safe and acceptable working environment.
- 1.4 This and other information security policies are not intended to obstruct and limit the use of information at NFTS but to safeguard individuals and the School as a whole against possible risks.
- 1.5 Please note that infringement of these guidelines may constitute a criminal offence or be a disciplinary offence under Staff Conditions of Service.

2. Access to Staff-Only Information Systems

- 2.1 Access to NFTS staff-only information systems shall be restricted. Each user shall be granted initial data access as determined by their line manager. Additional access, as required by users on a case by case basis, will be applied in accordance with the School’s IT Access Control Policy

3. Student Use of IT Facilities

- 3.1 Changes to hardware and software should only be made by authorised members of NFTS staff.
- 3.2 Please respect the legitimate use by others of the IT facilities and do not remove or interfere with output belonging to others.
- 3.3 IT facilities are primarily provided for academic reasons and not for the purposes of entertainment.
- 3.4 Please respect the rights of others and should conduct yourself in a quiet and orderly manner when using IT facilities.

4. Electronic Information, online access and email

- 4.1 NFTS provides its users with computer equipment, software and online access to internal and external networks and network services, including the Internet. This provision is so that users may communicate more efficiently and better accomplish the School's aims.
- 4.2 Although NFTS respects the privacy of its users, you should have no expectation of privacy. Furthermore, you should be aware that (generally) any emails, computer files and/or documents you create are the property of NFTS.
- 4.3 Access to another person's emails will only be granted with the explicit consent of two of the following NFTS managers: Director, Head of IT, Director of HR, Director Of External Relations, Director of Curriculum, Registrar.
- 4.4 Use of computer equipment, software or online access provided by NFTS is subject to the following general conditions:
 - As a general rule, your use of IT equipment and online access should be for academic or work purposes only. However, NFTS does allow personal use of email and the internet subject to the rules of conduct set out in this policy and provided that such use does not conflict with the performance of your duties or the interests of NFTS.
 - You must not reveal your account password (or associated secret authentication information) to others or allow use of your account by others. This includes family

| Port scanning or security scanning is expressly prohibited unless being conducted by authorised members of NFTS IT Team (or authorised third parties) for the purposes of maintaining the integrity of NFTS network security |
| Executing any form of network monitoring that will intercept data not intended for the user's host is expressly prohibited unless being conducted by authorised members of NFTS IT Team (or authorised third parties) for the purposes of maintaining the integrity of the NFTS network or its security |
| Circumventing user authentication or security of any host, network service or account |
| Using any program/script/command, or sending messages of any kind, with the intent to interfere with, or disable, a user's network session, via any means, locally or via the Internet/Intranet/Extranet |
| Providing information about, or lists of, NFTS staff or students to parties outside of NFTS (unless authorised by senior management) |

- 4.5 No confidential information will be stored on any systems other than those directly maintained by NFTS unless formally approved by the NFTS Head of IT.
- 4.6 No confidential information should be sent online by any means, without utilising appropriate, approved, security methods. Online communications may be subject to interception by persons outside NFTS and such interception may not be detectable. Any encryption software used should be provided by or approved by the NFTS IT Team.
- 4.7 NFTS will cooperate with law enforcement authorities to prosecute offenders. You must report any suspected, accidental, or intentional illegal action to the Head of IT or Director or Operations.
- 4.8 NFTS has the right to monitor all usage of the IT, communications and computer systems to:
- ensure proper working of the systems
 - ensure that all users comply with NFTS practices and procedures (including but not limited to this policy)
 - ensure that all users achieve acceptable standards in relation to the performance of their duties and observance of this policy

- prevent or detect crime, and/or
- investigate or detect the unauthorised use of NFTS's systems.

4.9 NFTS reserves the right to audit networks and systems on a periodic basis to ensure compliance with this policy.

4.10 NFTS may inspect all such computers and information at any time as is deemed necessary for the conduct of its business, or for reasons of security at its sole discretion.

4.11 Users must adhere to the terms and conditions of all licence agreements relating to IT facilities which you use including software, equipment, services, documentation and other goods. You are deemed to have agreed to the Copyright Acknowledgement for the appropriate supplier – see appendix

5. Automatically Forwarded Email

5.1 Automatic email forwarding may potentially result in the inadvertent transmission of sensitive information to external email accounts.

5.2 Users should exercise utmost caution when sending any email from their NFTS account to an outside network. Unless approved by an appropriate manager, NFTS email should not be automatically forwarded to an external destination.

6. Prevent Duty

6.1 Under Section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, the School has a statutory duty to have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.' One aspect of this covers the accessing of online material that is proscribed under anti-terrorism legislation. Students should be aware that downloading or transmitting extremism-related material may present serious legal risks, and place them in danger of arrest and prosecution by the authorities.

6.2 In instances where students consider that they need to access security-sensitive material for legitimate purposes of academic research, they should request this in writing from the Director of Curriculum and Registrar, and suitable arrangements shall be made.
